SAYS ARTICLE TEN IS NOT ESSENTIAL

President of Council of League of Nations Says He's Surprised That It Created Such Commotion in U. S.

(By Associated Press)

BRUSSELS Oct 25—Leon Bourgeois, president of the council of the league of nations talking to American newspaper correspondents last night said that Article X of the covenant of the league of nations is not considered by European statesmen a vital and essential element of the covenant

M Bourgeois said he had been surprised that this article had caused so much reaction in the United States He stated that article X could be eliminated without in any way modifying the effectiveness of the league of nations

Article X said M Bourgeois is hardly more than a moral obligation to the covenant It is not considered so important by Europeans as by Americans

There is really no sanction or penalty in this article All penalties provided for in the covenant in order to make the leagues action effective are in other articles

M Bourgeois statement was made in the course of an interview arranged for American correspondents by M Comert principal press official of the league of nations After M Bourgeois had withdrawn, the question was discussed among the American correspondents as to the effect of M Bourgeois utterance on the presidential election in the United States It was thereupon mutually agreed to withhold the statement until M Bourgeois could pass upon it as being issued with the fullest authority and approval

M Bourgeois was seen this morning by M Comert, who then told the correspondents he had explained to M Bourgeois the importance of the remarks and requested M Bourgeois to say whether he intended them to be published in the United States

M Bourgeois replied,' said Comert that he understood the importance of what he was saying and was quite willing the interview should be printed

M Bourgeois continuing the conversation of last night and replying to questions regarding the prospects of the revision of the covenant by the general assembly of the league of nations, which meets at Geneva, Nov 15, next said

The council of the league being guardians of the covenant, are of course unable to go before the assembly with any project that alters the covenant But individual states which are members of the league may of course propose such amendments as they see fit

MARTYRED SINN FEINER WHO FASTED TO DEATH

Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney in his robes of office.

Terence MacSwiney Succumbs On Seventy-Third Day of His Fast Strike In London Jail

Sinn Feiner, Unconscious Several Days Never Regained Faculties, Hunger Strike Eclipses Anything Known In Medical Annals; Wife and Sisters Not at Bedside But Chaplain and Brother Were There---Death Brings Much Ill-Feeling; Deep Grief Expressed

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, died at Brixton prison this city, at 5:40 o'clock this morning. His death followed a hunger strike of more than 73 days, eclipsing any in the annals of the medical world.

MacSwiney who had been unconscious for several days, did not recover his faculties before he died. Father Dominic, his private chaplain and his brother, John MacSwiney were with him when the end came. Father Dominic was at the prison all night and did not leave until several hours after MacSwiney breathed his last.

John MacSwiney and the captain who had been waiting down stairs in the prison, were told by prison officials at 4:35 o'clock that they should go to the mayor's bedside as they thought death was approaching. The brother asked for the privilege of communication with other relatives who were not present, but the officials, it is said, refused him the use of a telephone.

After the prisoner's death, his brother and the chaplain were not permitted to leave Brixton prison until 6:15 o'clock John MacSwiney immediately conveyed word to the widow of the lord mayor, who was staying at a west end hotel with Mr. and Mrs. O Brien, the former being the London executive of the Irish self determination league.

Mrs. MacSwiney, accompanied by her parents and the Misses Annie and Mary MacSwiney, sisters of the lord mayor, arrived at Brixton prison at 9:30 o'clock.

Take Body to Ireland

It is understood arrangements are being made to take the body to Ireland for burial.

News of MacSwiney's death had not become known in the district around Brixton prison until after 9 o'clock. The usual large contingent of police was on duty inside the prison grounds to prevent any demonstration but outside, and along the road leading to the main highway there were no unusual signs of activity. No civilians were waiting there, as they usually did in the early days of the lord mayor's hunger strike.

It is probable the inquest will be held at the prison today, after which the body will be turned over to relatives.

The cause of MacSwiney's death was heart failure, according to a statement issued at the home office.

This statement is considered an indirect answer to the criticism of Dr. Josiah Oldfield, the physician and publicist, who had declared it was wrong for the lord mayor's doctors to administer meat juice and brandy. He said brandy was a poison and that a man at the point of death was very susceptible to poison. Dr. Oldfield added that when a man fasted a long time the first food he could endure was fruit juice. When one of the officials was asked today regarding Mrs. MacSwiney's absence from the bedside when death occurred, he replied by saying the restrictions which were recently imposed upon visits of relatives were urged by the attending physician as vital to the prisoner's own interest.

Was 40 Years Old

Terence MacSwiney was 40 years old and was one of the most prominent Sinn Feiners. He started life as a draper's assistant, but became a poet, author and playwright before taking up politics seriously. Later he became violently anti-English.

While in Wakefield jail, Yorkshire in 1916, he met Muruel Murphy, daughter of a wealthy Cork distiller who visited the jail and shortly after they were married despite Murphy's opposition.

MacSwiney was elected as Sinn Fein member from Cork to the British parliament in 1918, but never took his seat. He was present at the first session of the Irish parliament in 1919 when the establishment of the republic was confirmed and was elected lord mayor of Cork in 1920..

For various political offenses, he had been in jail with brief intervals of liberty January 1916 and in October 1917, secured his release from jail by hunger striking.

Crowds Start Collecting

As soon as the news of the lord mayor's death began to spread through the city, small knots of people began moving toward Brixton prison The police, however, did not allow anyone to move into the street leading to the prison entrance, keeping the people moving so that a crowd would not form Fears had previously been expressed that the lord mayor's death might cause a demonstration at the prison

The MacSwiney family arranged during the morning for the removal of the body from the prison to St George's cathedral, in London as soon as the inquest was ended The body will lie in state there until it is taken to Dublin, where it is planned to place the body for a day or two in the mansion house

MacSwiney's grave will be alongside that of his official predecessor, Lord Mayor Thomas MacCurtain, who was shot in his own home in Cork on March 20. MacSwiney will be the fourth to be buried in this plot, the others be-

OFFER NEW SET OF FIGURES IN STRIKE

Negotiations to End Big British Coal Mine Tie-Up Continue Today

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 25—Premier Lloyd George and members of the government this morning conferred with government experts concerning a new set of figures for wages of the coal miners and production in the coal industry. Later the government leaders and representatives of the miners met and continued negotiations begun Sunday for a settlement of the miners strike.

Conversations renewed at No 10 Downing street today between Premier Lloyd George and executives of the miners' federation were confidently expected to lead to a settlement of the miners' strike which last week threatened to involve Great Britain in an industrial crisis

Prominent executives of the federation and government officials are quoted by newspapers here as being optimistic of the situation

Seek Increased Output

It is believed an arrangement will be reached by which each side can at least claim it has not yielded its main contention It is asserted Premier Lloyd George will submit proposals which he hopes will make increased output of coal so certain that it will be possible to grant immediately the increase of wages demanded by the coal diggers

The miners' leaders are quoted as saying they are confident the government will before long find a way to concede the miners' claims

Newspapers of this city continue for the most part, and express relief at national union of railway men decided to defer calling a strike Such action it is understood will not be taken before Wednesday

The labor conference which was called by the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress, will meet on Wednesday, and there are indications that a railway strike, even if eventually called, may be rather half-hearted Many messages from local branches are said to have been received at headquarters of the union, expressing hostility to the idea of a strike

It is said that if a strike ballot of the workers has been taken, the attitude of J H Thomas, secretary of the national union of railway men will certainly influence a large number of the members In a speech delivered Sunday, Mr Thomas, while expressing sympathy for the strikers, warned his audience of the dangers of a strike, which he said he realized "might lead to the downfall of all of us."

He declared he was firm in his determination not to lead such a strike

HON. W. R. COMINGS

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Comings from this city to the Hawaiian Islands in the near future is a matter of more than ordinary interest. Mr. Comings came to Elyria with his wife and two daughters more than twenty years ago. He was elected superintendent of our public schools to fill a vacancy for a short time at a critical period in our schools, and filled the position with such acceptability that he was re-elected to succeed himself and continued as our superintendent until he voluntarily retired four years ago, having served continuously for fifteen years. He had seen the city grow from about 8,000 to nearly 20,000 and our schools had shown a corresponding growth. Mr. Comings was a progressive superintendent, the manual training, domestic science and other departments having been introduced and developed under his direction. Mr. Comings had high standing amongst prominent educators of the country evidenced by the fact that Elyria High School was on the preferred list of the colleges of the country, all taking Elyria High graduates without examination, except those colleges requiring examinations from all schools.

A graduate of Oberlin College, Mr. Comings spent nearly all his life since graduation, in educational and newspaper work. Coming to Elyria from Lorain, Ohio, where he was editor and proprietor of The Lorain Times. Since retiring from the public schools Mr. Comings has been elected to represent this county in the Legislature, his present term expiring in January next. He has been on several important committees, but has been most active on the school committee where his ripe experience has been of great value, he having introduced and fathered several important measures. He has been a painstaking and conscientious legislator, always on the right side of every moral issue.

Mrs. Comings, a lady of culture and refinement, has found a large place with her husband in the church and social life of Elyria, and the host of friends of both will sincerely regret their leaving the city permanently, and will wish them a pleasant voyage to their new home in Honolulu, which fortunately is under the Stars and Stripes, and that they may find as many friends there as they are leaving here.

BALLOT BEST BLUDGEON

For the life of us, we can't understand why farmers, many of the manufacturers and of the retailers are jumping on the Federal Reserve Board alone. The Board is the creature of the Democratic party and is functioning as it was organized to function. If there is resentment, the manifestation of that resentment should get back to the cause of things and be expressed at the ballot boxes in November by votes of rebuke against the Democratic candidates whether for the Presidency or for seats in the Senate or House of Representatives. If farmers are as indignant as their resolutions indicate, there ought to be a mighty small among the...

PLEASE TELL

Won't Mr. Cox please take the people of America into his confidence and tell them frankly what method he favors for the raising of troops for foreign service in case the United States becomes a member of the League of Nations? Does he favor a volunteer system or conscription? Europe wants a million American soldiers now. If the United States ratifies the treaty as Mr. Cox wants it to, and Mr. Cox shall be elected President, as he desires to be, what plan of raising troops will he urge upon Congress? Now be frank, Mr. Cox.

—o—

A PLEDGE FOR COX

"Removal of all economic barriers" was the pledge of President Wilson to the world. America does not want the barriers removed, while the nations of low living standards do. China wants to continue to ship her coolie labor to this country for sale in competition with the products of the highly paid labor of America. Wilson's pledge, which Cox promises to fulfill if given the opportunity, is a pledge not to America first but to other nations first.

GOOD EVENING FOLKS.

Permit me to introduce to you Elyria's newest citizen—

Myself.

My official title is—Managing Editor of The Chronicle-Telegram—but the position isn't nearly as dangerous as the title implies.

My aim and object in coming to our beautiful city is to lend my efforts in the business of publishing a newspaper that will continue to improve and stand for the best interests of the community in which it is published, one that will stand high in the estimation of the people, one that will be noted for its dependability, its fearlessness and, may I hope, its influence.

Every community can boast a good newspaper—

Providing—

That every citizen co-operates heartily in the making of that newspaper.

The first duty of any daily paper is to give the news.

Good news preferably—but at any rate—the news.

If you perform a service to your community—if you marry a wife—if a child is born into your home or a loved one departs this life, this is news and as such is worthy of a place in our newspaper.

If you commit a crime against the laws of society—if you use your talent or influence in some unworthy cause—this also is news and, as such, will find a place in our news columns.

The time for you to think of the effect on your friends and your family that the bad news will have—

Is just before you commit an evil deed—

Then it won't be necessary for you to come and ask the newspaper to suppress that news.

A newspaper has just two things to sell.

Its news columns to subscribers—

Advertising space to advertisers who appreciate the splendid opportunity of reaching a large number of people at a minimum expense.

Subscribers, very, very, seldom ask a publisher to give them a few inches of advertising—

And by the same token—

Advertisers are not expected to ask a publisher to donate a lot of free publicity to their enterprises.

News is news—

And it wouldn't be fair to the people who buy our paper for the news it contains to burden them with pure advertising under the guise of news. The owners of The Chronicle-Telegram, hold, I believe, almost identical views with myself on what a newspaper should be.

This being the case it should be an easy matter, with your co-operation, to turn out a publication that every citizen of this great city will be proud of.

We solicit your aid in this undertaking. We solicit your opinions. We ask you to feel free to visit this office or to express your ideas through communications.

Elyria has a slogan "The 100% City."

Our steadfast aim will be to merit the slogan—

A 100% newspaper.

Will you do your part?

C. G. ABBEY.

BY ROY K. MOLTON

AN ADMIRABLE PLAN, SAY WE.

We are delighted to note that they are reviving the plan to establish a colony of chimpanzees in this country to do the manual labor in many sections It is the purpose to uplift the whole ape race and let the little brown brothers go to work for the white folks

The apes are second only to human beings in intelligence, and, in point of fact, they are not second to some human beings we have met.

It is not difficult to see how in some of the branches of farm labor an ape might be about 125 per cent efficient. In the matter of picking apples or peaches, for instance, the chim could hang on by his tail and pick with all four hands while the best any man can do, even a good picker, is to hang on with one hand and pick with the other.

The subject is one which has many fascinating phases

One of the difficult jobs on a farm is that of plucking the festive potato bugs from the plants Some of the new-fangled farmers have spraying machines but the old fashioned way is to go forth in the morning with a tin pail and garner as many of these delightful little creatures as possible If a man is a good picker he can get a two-quart bucket full by nightfall

What a monkey with four efficient hands could do would stagger the imagination His time might be worth more than the man's, but then he would be able to double the man's output.

It is said to be the intention of those who are behind this chimpanzee colonization plan to train the chimpanzees to a high degree of efficiency in the arts, such as shoe polishing, etc

It can readily be seen how they might get by in the jazz orchestras What a chimpanzee with four working hands could do to a ukulele would be sufficient.

As a trap drummer a chimpanzee could make just 100 per cent more noise than the present trap drummer, and noise is what makes good music these days He could play both drums, the wash boiler, the locomotive whistle, the boiler explosion and the glass crash simultaneously

The only possible objection to starting a colony of chimpanzees and gorillas in this country is that they might eventually get into politics and get to running things, which would be a sad commentary on our well-known present system.

The world's champ prevaricator lives in New York. He claims he has seen a magazine cover girl in real life.

But now the war has changed all that, the same as it has changed a great many other things Effendi and all his friends were considerably gossiped about at the Paris peace conference He had lost his country, his ruby ring, his stuffed mangoes and several yards of his pipe tubing. Expenses went up to such an extent that he had to send the wives out one at a time to do plain sewing and general housework. While thus engaged, they picked up a number of ideas about women.

They grew indifferent to Effendi's home; left the dishes standing in the sink, refused to take care of the horses and made Effendi do the darning and mind the babies

But the final blow came when they decided to remove their veils When Effendi saw what his harem looked like in broad daylight he threw up his hands and decided to hock the whole thing.

It is is safe to say that the harem idea is a dead issue. One wife with civilized ideas is said to be sufficient.

DINNER STORIES

She was sitting after dinner with a gallant captain in a charming decorated recess. On her knee was a diminutive niece. In an adjoining room, with the door open, were the rest of the company Presently the little niece was heard to say in a jealous and very audible voice: "Auntie, kiss me, too"

"Certainly, pet," returned the girl. "But you should say 'twice,' dear; 'two' is not grammar."

The transport had entered New York harbor. On board was one lone colored soldier among the homeward bound As the ship passed the statue of liberty there was absolute silence, when suddenly the dusky doughboy broke the quiet by remarking. "Put your light down, honey, I'se ho e."

"Miss Lane, do let me help you to some more pudding."

"Well, thanks," said the young woman. "I will take some more, but only a mouthful, please."

"Jane," said the hostess to the parlor maid, "fill Miss Lane's plate."

"Humph! I suppose you've been everywhere?" sneered Gibson as the great explorer finished relating his experiences.

"No" replied the traveler. "Not everywhere. I haven't yet visited the place the taxi driver told me to go to when I refused to tip him."

"It is possible to have too much of a good thing," remarked the philosopher.

"Yes," agreed the mere man; "the dog with the shortest tail runs the least danger of having tin cans tied to it."

HALLOWE'EN PARTY ARRANGED FOR GATES HOSPITAL KIDDIES

For some time the girls of the industrial department, Mrs. T. T. Robinson, chairman of the industrial committee, with Miss Minerva Robins, industrial secretary, have made weekly visits to the hospital, entertaining the children in different ways.

This work has been successfully carried out under the direction of Mrs. Martha Meredith, office secretary at the Young Women's Christian association.

Each week new ideas have been planned and they have had games, picture puzzles, dolls, balloons, letter alphabets, painting, refreshments, music, etc, the girls spending about two hours each Saturday afternoon.

Last Saturday Mrs. Meredith assisted by Miss Mildred Crowe, gave a very interesting Hallowe'en program. There were about twenty-four children gathered in one end of the sun parlor which was beautifully decorated in black and orange crepe paper, witches, cats and pumpkins.

The program was opened by Miss Ebba Fossellus and Miss Lois Nieding, who were in costume and danced and sang with ukeleles. Each child was given a crepe paper cap of bright colors.

The next number was a vocal solo by Mis Sigrid Hallman. Miss Dorothy Sax gave a reading, "The giblins will git you if you don't watch out;" songs by the youngsters, "I'm forever blowing bubbles, "Till we meet again;" Miss Eleanor Thomas, recitation; violin solo, Miss Fay, fancy dancing by Misses Conna Bell and Maurine Struthers piano selections, Mrs Martha Meredith.

During the program the children were served with popcorn, marshmallows, apples, doughnuts and milk. The donations were made by Mr. Loomis of the Loomis book store, L. Bowell of Nycla Rubber Co, T J. Donovan and R L. Morgan.

The children were overjoyed with their party and every act of kindness was thoroughly appreciated.

WEDDING FESTIVITIES AT SETTLEMENT HOUSE ATTENDED BY HUNDREDS

The wedding festivities on Saturday of Miss Julia Kokai, daughter of Mrs. Theresa Kokai of West River street, this city, and John Simon of Cleveland, was an event of importance, second to none in the social history of the Social Settlement house in Western Heights. The marriage service was read at nine o'clock in the morning in St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. Frye, officiating, and the wedding party included twenty-two flower girls and twenty two flower boys, all of whom acted as attendants.

The bride wore cream silk crepe de chine with full length veil of tulle, fastened to the hair with orange blossoms, and each young lady atendant wore white and carried pink flowers. The brides first maid was Miss Elizabeth Gordon and the best man was Steve Lako. Four little flower girls, two of them sisters of the bride, Elizabeth and Mary Kokai, and Bertha Helli and Rosie Darmon, carried baskets of pink flowers.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the brides mother immediately following the service in the church, and at noon the real wedding festivities for all the friends of the newlyweds began in the settlement house and on the grounds.

In the evening at eight o'clock long tables seating almost two hundred guests were spread on the grounds adjourning the social center and from these tables was dispensed a most elaborate dinner of four courses, each course being introduced by the best man who was master of the evening's ceremonies. Each of the men of the wedding party acted as waiters at the banquet and were most efficient in their attention to every guest.

A feature of the affair, which contributed no little enjoyment to all was the presence of a large number of the American friends in attendance at the festivities. Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Hungarian orchestra of Lorain, which was also assisted by much local vocal talent.

Following the banquet the celebration concluded with dancing in the settlement house the feature of which was the bride's dance ,when all who claimed this honor signified by dropping money, nothing less than a dollar, which is contributed towards the wedding gift for the couple just united in marriage.

Miss Edith Gill in charge of the settlement work whose assistance was in evidence through out the entire day also assisted the bride in receiving her guests.

W. R. COMINGS AND WIFE TO LEAVE FOR HONOLULU TUESDAY

VETERAN SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT LEAVES LORAIN COUNTY AFTER MANY YEARS OF SERVICE

Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Comings, 819 Middle avenue will leave this city for Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands where they will make their future home.

The departure of this estimable couple is regretted by a large circle of friends not only in Elyria, but in Oberlin, where they lived for years, and throughout Lorain county.

Coming to Elyria in 1901 as superintendent of the public school Mr Comings at once actively entered into the life of the community. He held this position until 1916, during which time the city grew and the schools thrived under his careful management. The school was liberalized in its course of study, and agricultural and commercial work were added. Later the industrial courses, domestic science arts and crafts were added until the schools were as well equipped as any in the State. When Mr. Comings took charge there were four high school teachers, and when he retired there were twenty-five. During his incumbency a number of new buildings were erected. The Lincoln building and the technical buildings were added to the high school equipment. When the new "tech" was under construction it was proposed by T. T. Robinson, of the school board that it be called the "Comings" building. "Never" said Mr. Comings. "I'll not allow it." All the present buildings except the stone high school building and parts of the Franklin and Ridge street buildings were erected under his supervision The McKinley building was sketched by him and adopted by Architect Campbell in preference to the one he had already prepared It has been the type for later buildings.

Mr. Comings has been active also in State educational lines and for years was an officer of the State Teachers' and North Eastern Association.

He has also helped build up the city in other ways, and has erected a dozen or more houses throughout the city, that he later sold.

He also started the organization movement that resulted in the Y. W. C. A. being formed, and has been interested in every reform movement since his residence here.

As a member of the legislature he served two terms and secured the passage of laws giving township power to provide fire protection, one that lengthened the term of county commissioners, the one that gives State aid to crippled children's hospitals, and a dozen or fifteen others.

Mr and Mrs Comings will be accompanied by her sister, Mrs W. A. Bowen, of Honolulu, who has been visiting here during the summer, and with whom they will make their home.

ANNUAL RECEPTION FOR SENIORS-JUNIORS OBSERVES SEASON

Almost three hundred guests, which included the members of the senior and junior classes and the members of the faculty of the Elyria High School, were in attendance on Saturday evening at the annual Senior-Junior reception held in Technical High school.

The affair was planned and all the details carried out as a Hallow'een party, and the decoration and appointments carried out the designs of the mystic season. The program included a series of progressive stunts, arranged in the various class rooms which concluded by the congregating of the guests in the auditorium, when the grand march of the evening was started and which formally opened the program of dancing.

Music was furnished by the Popular Five Orchestra, composed of five musical high school students James Lilley, Leland Osborne, Theodore Maddock and Myron Worthington.

Preceeding the dancing session and following the progressive stunts a Hallow'een luncheon was served which included cider and doughnuts.

MR. AND MRS. ERNSHAW PRESENT HALLOWE'EN AFFAIR

A charming Hallowe'en party was given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ernshaw on Fremont street, when they entertained more than forty little folks who came dressed in fantastic costumes, the affair being held in a large tent which had been erected on the lawn for the occasion and which was beautifully decorated in the season's colors.

The usual Hallowe'en stunts were indulged in while the famous "Old Witch" and gypsy foretold wonderful happenings to the merry guests. More than twenty adults were present to participate in the happy affair and at a late hour refreshments were served after which they dispersed, al agreeing that it was the "best ever" Hallowe'en party.

Why Ohio Must Exercise
"Concurrent Power"
The PROHIBITION AMENDMENT to the FEDERAL CONSTITUTION gives to States "concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

The Federal Prohibition Commissioner in Cincinnati has eight officers to enforce the Prohibition law in the nineteen counties of his district. The Federal grand jury meets but twice a year for a two to four weeks' session. The docket of the Federal District Court already is overcrowded. It often is so long before a case can be brought to a hearing that witnesses move away, die, or forget the details to which they are to testify, thus making convictions very difficult. It probably would require more than a year to handle the complaints already on file in the office of the local Commissioner. What is true in this district is true all over the State.

Fines Will Increase Police Pay

Section 7. Money arising from fines and forfeited bonds shall be paid one-half into the state treasury credited to the general revenue fund; one-half to the treasury of the township, municipality or county where the prosecution is held, according as to whether the officer hearing the case is a township, municipal, or county officer.

In Cincinnati there are 767 municipal policemen, and a considerable number of other officers with local police powers. There are numerous local courts sitting daily. House Bill No. 620 turns all of this machinery, already existing, to aid in enforcement of prohibition. No additional courts or officers are required. Police officers could make arrests, and, as in the case of an auto speeder, have an immediate hearing. Fines ranging from $100 to $2,000 could be assessed, and the case finally disposed of in less than 48 hours, as compared with waiting six months for an indictment by a Federal grand jury.

'CARMEN' TO ATTRACT BIG HOUSE HERE

STORY OF GRAND OPERA WHICH SHOWS AT THE RIALTO THEATRE NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The story of the Bizet opera "Carmen," which Ralph Dunbar is bringing to the Rialto Wednesday evening Oct. 27 with Lorna Doone Jackson in the name role, is laid in Seville, during the year 1820. The first act opens in the public square, in which a troop of soldiers under command of Lieut. Don Jose, and loungers are waiting the approach of the pretty girls who work in the cigarette factory near by and, prettiest and most heartless of them all, Carmen. Before they appear Micaela, a village girl enters the square, bearing a message to Don Jose from his mother, but not finding him, departs. The cigarette girls at last pass by on their way to work, and with them Carmen, who observes Don Jose sitting in an indifferent manner and throws him the rose she wears in her bosom. As the girls disappear Micaela returns and delivers her message. The sight of the gentle girl and the thoughts of home dispel Don Jose's growing passion for Carmen. He is about to throw away her rose, when a sudden disturbance is heard in the factory. It is found that Carmen has quarreled with one of the girls and wounded her. She is arrested and to avoid further mischief her arms are pinioned. She so bewitches the lieutenant, however, that he connives at her escape and succeeds in effecting it.

In the second act Carmen has returned to her wandering gypsy life, and is found with her companions singing and dancing in the cabaret of Lillas-Pasta. Escamillo arrives. He is the noted bull fighter of Grenada and Carmen becomes fascinating.

When the inn is closed, Escamillo and the soldiers leave, but Carmen waits with two of her gypsy band who are smugglers, for the arrival of Don Jos. They persuade her to induce him to join their band, and, when the lieutenant, wild with passion for her, enters the apartment, she prevails upon him to remain, in spite of the trumpet call which summons him to duty. An officer orders him out. He refuses to go. The gypsies are called and overpower the officer and Don Jose escapes to the mountains.

The Third act transpires in the mountain haunts of the smugglers. Escamillo appears and arouses the jealousy of Don Jose and an immediate fight is barely averted. Escamillo bides his time, invites them to the approaching bull-fight at Seville and departs. While Don Jose is upbraiding Carmen, the faithful Micaela, who has been guided to the spot, begs him to accompany her, as his mother is dying. Duty prevails and Don Jose leaves Carmen.

In the last act the drama hurries on to the tragic denoument. It is bull-day in Seville for Escamillo has to fight. Carmen is there in his company, although her gypsy friends have warned her that Don Jose is searching for her. Amid great pomp, Escamillo enters the arena, and Carmen is about to follow when Don Jose appears and stops her. She will not listen. The shouts of the people in the arena announce another victory for Escamillo. Carmen cries out with joy. Don Jose springs at her like a tigress, and stabs her just as Escamillo emerges from the contest.

AMERICAN

"City of Masks"

The film attraction at the American Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday will be "The City of Masks," adapted from George Barr McCutcheon's novel of the same name and starring Robert Warwick.

The plot is built up around the novel idea that there are hundreds of men and women in New York concealing the fact that they are of noble birth by occupying humble positions as chauffeurs, governesses, and the like. Once a week they meet at a certain house and assume their rightful identities for the evening. Robert Warwick, as Tommy Trotter, chauffeur to the wealthy Mr. Carpenter, is really an English lord in disguise. He is in love with a Miss Ensdale, who is not really the governess she pretends to be, but a noblewoman. Their romance is threatened by the intrusion son of a nouveau-riche New York family, and only after several adventures, including a set-to with big city politics, are their affairs ended happily.

STRAND

"Seeing It Through"

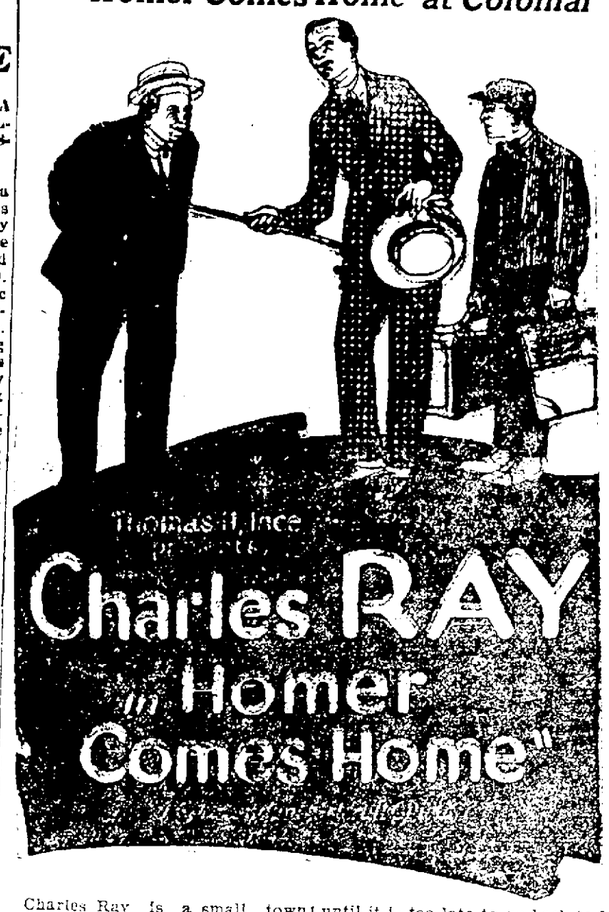

There is the quaint touch akin to the flavor of Dickens in "Seeing It Through," the Brentwood picture which was made for Robertson-Cole with Zasu Pitts featured. It is here at the Strand theatre this week for a run of two days. Edward H. Mitchell wrote the story and directed the picture.

"Seeing It Through" tells the charming story of the love affair and crisis in the life of Betty Lawrence. She is a girl who lives with her widowed mother in the little village of Arden. Her mother is not in good health, and after a time is forced to go to a sanitarium to recuperate. This is only made possible by a loan from a strange sinister character of the neighborhood named Ichabod Bogrum.

The little home of Betty and her mother, which is situated in the edge of the Carrington estate, is leased to a rather worthless and slovenly family named Tweeney, through Bogrum. He suggests that Betty come to his house and work for him while her mother is away. The girl is sorely disappointed in the home she finds with Bogrum, but decides not to tell her mother of the disagreeable turn of events, fearing to make her mother worse.

One day she meets Jim Carrington, heir to the Carrington estate, who has been away to war, and the pair fall in love. Bettys mother dies and she runs away from the home of Bogrum, who, all along, has been plotting to get possession of the Lawrence cottage, and sell it to the Carrington estate. In the end old Bogrum is brought to justice, and Betty marries Jim, while the careless family in the cottage is brought along the way to good citizenship by the teachings of Betty.

'Homer Comes Home' at Colonial

Charles Ray is a small town dreamer of dreams who makes his biggest dream come true in his latest picture, "Homer Comes Home," which opened a three days' run at the Colonial Theatre last evening.

The youthful star has the role of Homer Cavender, who gets him self fired from the last available job in town and goes to the city in search of a wider field. There he becomes a clerk in a big establishment. Carrying out the advice of his boss that no one should wait until it is too late to go back to his old home town, Homer spends his vacation in the scene of his former failures. But how things have changed! Homer has city clothes and manners and seemingly possesses money and is a person of importance.

Homer is the man of the hour. He takes advantage of this unexpectedly attained position to put over his pet scheme and win the girl of his heart as well.

TEN "BARONS" CONTROL GREAT BRITAIN'S COAL

Duke of Northumberland, left, Lady Rhondda and Lord Gainsford.

The great coal resources of Great Britain are controlled by nine "coal kings" and one "queen." Their huge incomes have been hit by the strike of the million miners in the British Isles and the holdings themselves are threatened by the agitation afoot to nationalize the mines. The "queen" in the list of coal magnates is Lady Rhondda. Among the "kings" are the Duke of Northumberland, Lord Gainsford, D. R. Llewellyn, Lord Tredegar, the Marquis of Bute, H. Seymour Berry and Lord Joicey. 'Tis said the duke's income is $15 an hour.

As A Woman Thinks

AS THE FARMER SEES IT

By Edith E. Moriarty

[illegible]day, and the farmer was sitting chatting with the summer boarder from the city while his wife busied herself in the kitchen

'I used to be easy goin,'" he was saying 'Summer campers and cottagers could have just about anything they asked for The trouble was they wouldn't ask for things but would just take 'em without askin' They began to take things for granted and look at the privileges I allowed them as rights and finally I had to put a stop to it The first time I charged the Browns for takin' them to the city to meet their friends who was comin' out for a visit you'd a thought I committed a crime the way they acted They have never been the same since and they acted as if I was robbin' them when I charged a few cents for tomatoes potatoes, eggs and milk that they got from me

'What I think is queer about their attitude is that they would never act the way they'd expect me to if I went to live near them in the city Do you think Mr Brown would give me clothes he runs a department store you know, even old ones for nothing Do you think he would tell me to walk around and pick up what I want as I have done with him Do you think he would take his delivery trucks which he uses for work and let me have them to move my household furniture, and to meet my friends at the depot and go for joy rides at night He would not I would never expect him to and I can not quite understand why him and his family and most other city folk should expect us to give them everything they need and accept no money for it Why, they look at us as if we were liars when we tell them we have no eggs Of course we have eggs, but none to spare, for we have to put them up for winter Would Mr Brown sell me shirts which he was saving for a mid winter sale or would he give me a coat which he had ordered for his wife's winter wardrobe? As I said, I used to be easy, but those Browns and some of their kind didn't know a good thing when they had it There goes the supper bell, and I aint washed up yet'

The summer boarded looked at the farmer and his wife through new eyes that night

Terence Mac Swiney Succumbs on 73d Day of His Fast Strike In London Jail

gent upon the possibility of governmental interferences which however it regarded as unlikely The progress of the funeral party from Dublin to Cork will be marked by a series of services at all the populous centers enroute Final obsequies will be held in Cork cathedral and interment will be made in St Fin Barr's cemetery in Cork The grave in which MacSwiney will be buried is known as Republican plot which has been reserved for Irish nationalist soldiers

"Died for Cause"

A friend of the MacSwiney family who accompanied Mrs MacSwiney when she visited Brixton prison this morning said the lord mayor's telegram of October 18 to the Cork hunger strikers with reference to the death of the hunger striker Michael Fitzgerald in Cork jail in which he referred to Fitzgerald as having died for his country and joined the immortals characterized the family's attitude "Mrs MacSwiney and the lord mayor's sisters, Annie and Mary who were not present when the end came entered the cell kissed the mayor's eyes knelt silently in prayer a few moments and then left the friend said There was not a tear shed by the mayoress who preserved the same stoical self possession she has shown throughout the long ordeal

Within the past week when it began to appear that the lord mayor was approaching the end he was given liquid nourishment by the prison doctors during periods of unconsciousness This fact appeared in statements by the Irish self determination league which had been issuing regular bulletins on MacSwiney's condition and by the home office The league statement showed the lord mayor as becoming extremely indignant upon regaining consciousness and realizing that he had been fed

Protests Feeding

"They tricked me and I did not know it" he exclaimed

The league bulletin on October contained this statement

It should be made clear that the meat extract given the lord mayor during his delirium on the third day of his fast was the first nourishment which had passed his lips since his arrest on August 12 With regard to the theological aspects of the lord mayor's hunger strike and that of the Irish prisoners in the Cork jail who began abstention from food shortly before MacSwiney's fast started it was stated in a Rome dispatch October 17 that Pope Benedict had referred the problem of the hunger striking prisoners to the congregation of the holy office

His holiness had received many appeals to make some pronouncement regarding these cases from persons of opposite viewpoint imploring the pontiff to reach diametrically opposed decisions on the question whether the deaths of the prisoners as a result of their hunger strike would make them suicides He had found widely divergent opinions also among learned cardinals and other eminent figures in the church with whom he had discussed the situation and therefore had placed the problem before the congregation of the holy office which settles questions of faith and morals and judges heresy There is no indication as to when a decision might be expected from this body

The first death among the hunger strikers occurred on Sunday Oct 17 when Michael Fitzgerald one of the eleven striking prisoners in the Cork jail succumbed to the results of his self imposed fast. He had fasted 68 days Several others of the Cork prisoners are declared to be in a critical state

The death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney was the first of an Irish hunger striker to occur in England Just a week ago on the occasion of the death of Michael Fitzgerald one of the 11 hunger strikers in Cork jail, the lord mayor telegraphed

We do not know who is to be the second to step in the path of immortalities but by offering unreserved sacrifice we are redeeming the destinies of Ireland

Death Not Unexpected

It became evident several days ago that MacSwiney was nearing the end Up to that time he had steadfastly refused nourishment although tempting dishes were brought to his bedside daily by the authorities Both the authorities and the lord mayor's relatives emphatically stated they had not administered food to the prisoner notwithstanding rumors to the contrary

At last after the mayor who had reached the state of extreme emaciation had become periodically delirious the officials began to give him liquid nourishment This came too late. however as the mayor had been all but dead for many days

As the end approached the authorities restricted the visits of his relatives declaring this was in the interest of the prisoner, who was said to be too weak for excitement Last evening his brother Sean (John) and Father Dominic stayed in the prison in view of eventualities Shortly before 6 o'clock this morning they were summoned to see the lord mayor, who had taken a bad turn They found him lying motionless, with his eyes open but unconscious

Father Dominic whispered a few prayers but the dying man did not recognize him The priest then recited the prayers for the dying while Sean the nurses and the four doctors including the expert adviser of the home office stood by

Father Dominic and Sean then retired to allow the doctors to do what they could for the lord mayor On one of them injected strychnine Father Dominic and Sean in the meantime were repeating rosaries in Gaelic in another part of the prison

The condition of the lord mayor was beyond human aid and Father Dominic again said prayers for the dying. Just as he had finished the lord mayor breathed his last

The news of his death spread rapidly throughout the United Kingdom and preparations for a great funeral were immediately begun by the Sinn Fein The plans, contingent upon government approval include the body lying in state in St George's cathedral in London and the Mansion house in Dublin and a series of services enroute from Dublin to Cork

Similar plans were made some time ago when it appeared that the lord mayor was about to die, and it is known that at that time the government took steps to repress what it might consider any undue demonstration Just what the attitude of the government will be in the present case is not known, but it appeared certain that no large demonstration of any kind would be sanctioned either in England or in Ireland and that the funeral would probably be controlled as was that of Michael Fitzgerald in Cork recently

South Ireland Grieved

CORK, Oct 25 — Feverish interest in developments caused by the death of Lord Mayor Mac Swiney of this city, which occurred in Brixton prison London this morning, is mingled with the grief in which his death has plunged South Ireland

Although the people appeared stirred to the highest degree of bitterness it is regarded as extremely improbable that there will be any outbreaks or disorderly demonstrations in this city

It is expected however there will be a considerable extension and intensification of guerilla warfare against the police and military forces which anticipating reprisals are doubling their vigilance especially in remote districts

Cork jail where a number of hunger strikers are in a grave condition is guarded inside and out by soldiers equipped with machine guns

There is an exceptionally large garrison here It is equipped for any eventualities has a number of tanks and armored trains and ready for instant service

Military forces are so strong that it is considered improbable that any attempt at force will be made here

It is understood the Irish parliament had been making appeals to all elements of the population to refrain from violence This is also believed to be the policy of various influential leaders of the Sinn Fein movement Whether such counsels will be followed by the young or element or by members of the Irish Opinion Brotherhood one of the most militant of Irish secret societies remains to be seen

The news of Lord Mayor Mac Swiney's death received in private telegrams to his friends traveled with lightning speed throughout the city A meeting of the City Council to discuss the situation arising from the lord mayor's death was called this afternoon

The deputy lord mayor announced that he and several other municipal officials would proceed to Brixton prison today He stated that plans for holding the funeral in Cork would be proceeded with

The death of Joseph Murphy one of the hunger strikers in Cork jail is expected momentarily and prayers for the dying were being said shortly after noon by the jail chaplain

Murphy's mother two sisters and brother were at the bedside

Riots in Dublin

DUBLIN Oct 25 — Exciting scenes occurred here today in consequence of numerous military raids throughout the city Armed soldiers occupied Mansion House and a search followed

Hotels and private houses were raided and shots were fired One soldier is reported to have been wounded

To Pass Resolutions

TOLEDO Oct 25 The local branch of the friends of Irish Freedom will hold a special meeting to consider a declaration on the death of Terence Mac Swiney lord mayor of Cork Ireland who died today after a prolonged hunger strike for the Sinn Fein cause Instructions as to an effective foreign policy are being awaited from the headquarters of the organization

Dublin in Mourning

DUBLIN Oct 25 — The news of the death of Lord Mayor Mac Swiney of Cork in Brixton prison London was received here with evidences of profound grief It was intended to fly the city flag at half mast but British troops were in possession of Mansion House over which the flag usually flies

The quarterly meeting services Sunday at the Second M E church on Middle avenue and Sixteenth street were largely attended, every seat being taken at each service

At 3 p m Rev O E Shelton, district superintendent, delivered a wonderful message from Mark 16 15 He said the gospel contained the only true principles of good government and made a strong appeal to the colored voters to support the straight Republican ticket, that it and it only stood for pure democracy and that the Democratic party everywhere is trying to stir up race prejudice in their effort to win"

Something Everyone Should Know About PATHE Phonographs

One of the compelling reasons that prompted the Pathe Company to plan this nation-wide publicity and demonstration campaign, of which this sale is a part, was to better acquaint the public with the advantage of the Pathe Sapphire Ball, as a means of playing a phonograph instead of steel needles, and the important part it plays in providing the ONE greatest thing you can buy in a phonograph—tone!

The Pathe Phonograph employs a Sapphire Ball in playing Pathe records, exclusively This ball of sapphire, jewel polished under the microscope and fitting perfectly into the half circle of the sound groove along which it smoothly, beautifully glides, is bound to produce a TONE of purer quality than any you have ever known before.

It is all the difference between metal and LIFE!

This Pathe Sapphire Ball does not scratch, cut or harm the record in any way Therefore, a Pathe record, when played by a Sapphire Ball, can be played and replayed indefinitely without becoming scratched or losing any of its original playing qualities.

Another thing is this:

With the Pathe Phonograph, equipped with the Sapphire Ball, you do not have to keep changing needles every time you play a new selection, as you do with talking machines employing needles.

The Sapphire Ball is indestructible You can play thousands of records without making a change Simply put on a record—and play.

In the experimental department of the Pathe company, Pathe Records have been played with a Sapphire Ball more than a thousand times without showing any deterioration to either the Sapphire Ball or the records. And the demonstration of this fact, direct to the public, and the further demonstration of the convenience of the Sapphire Ball in contrast to the use of needles, played a big part in determining the Pathe Company to plan and organize this gigantic undertaking. For you must remember that this sale is but one of more than a hundred that are planned to be held in the principal cities of the United States.

This sale is to demonstrate, beyond a doubt, the superiority of the Pathe Phonograph, the Pathe Record, the Pathe tone, and the Sapphire Ball as a means of playing.

These are all being demonstrated here every day, and wholly aside from the many distinct advantages of the sale, it is well worth your while to drop in the store to hear and see the Pathe demonstrated merely as a matter of gaining knowledge.

A Place Kick Wins Sunday For Elyria Against Lorain 11

Lorain Outplayed Before 3,000 Fans in Second Game Here Won by Elyria 3 to 0---Crisp is Big Star---Two More Games Decided Upon, One at Lorain and the Other Here

Elyria Pros. won the second of a four game series from Lorain Talfcos before a 3,000 crowd at Riverview Park Sunday afternoon by a 3 to 0 score. The first game at Lorain was a scoreless tie. Two more games were decided upon when the attendance here and at Lorain was even and as a result one game will be played at Lorain and the other here.

The Elyria win came in the second period when Crisp, former Akron Indian star, made a successful place kick from the twenty yard line after a successful oneside kick. Lorain vigorously protested the allowance of the oneside kick.

The crack Toledo Maroons play the Elyria Pros. here next Sunday.

First Quarter

Elyria received, Crisp returning the oval 15 yards. Elyria forced to punt. Elyria penalized 15 yards for interfering with a player receiving a forward pass. A forward pass Pickerel to Bonsor, netted Lorain 10 yards. Fenters recovered fumble. Lorain recovered blocked punt. Lorain punted to Ambrose who returned the pigskin 15 yards. Bonsor threw Wright for a 5 yard loss. A place kick attempt by Elyria failed. The quarter ended with Lorain punting to Ambrose.

Second Quarter

Elyria recovered fumble. Ambrose punted to Pickerel who returned ball 11 yards. Lorain punted to Ambrose. Cartwright carried the ball through the line for a first down. Elyria forward pass attempt failed. Amherst kicked out of bounds on the 10 yard line. Bowser blocked forward pass attempt.

Ambrose and Firestone were removed from the game for fighting. It was noticeable throughout the game that Lorain players were slugging and tripping Ambrose with a deliberate attempt to pick a quarrel and fight which would have him removed from game. Lorain evidently figured that Elyria, without Ambrose, would be sufficiently weakened to enable them to win. This kind of tactic brought hoots of condemnation from the spectators.

Elyria registered first down. Elyria recovered an onside kick on Lorain's 20 yard line and Crisp made a perfect place kick for the only three points registered in the game. Lorain received. Gove returning the ball 25 yards. A forward pass failed.

Third Quarter

Lorain kicked on Elyria punting from the 45 yard line the same spot from which Lorain kicked at the beginning of the game. The ball was then placed on the 40 yard line. Gove carried the ball for a first down. Lorain negotiated a twenty yard forward pass. Lorain punted out-of-bounds on the 20 yard line. Elyria penalized 15 yards for holding, the ball being taken to within a few yards of the Elyria goal line. Elyria punted. Lorain failed on forward pass attempt. Crisp intercepted a forward pass on Lorain's own 30 yard line. Bowser tore through the line for a 15 yard gain and had his ankle injured. White who replaced Bowers, failed to report and Elyria was penalized 5 yards. Elyria and Lorain exchanged punts the remainder of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

Collins made first down. Elyria secured ball when three forward passes by Lorain failed. Elyria punted, Collins being tackled in tracks. Elyria secured ball on downs. An attempted place kick from the 40 yard line by Crisp failed and Lorain got possession of the ball on the 20 yard line. After two unsuccessful forward pass attempts Lorain attempted to punt. Elyria blocking and recovering the punt. Elyria punted. Crisp intercepted forward pass and plowed though the field for a 20 yard gain. The theatening scoring by Elyria was given a solor plexis blow when a forward pass over the line failed. Lorain was given possession of the ball on the 20 yard line. Lorain punted.

Munger and Hearn Prove Big Ground Gainers in Open Team Work for Victors — Protested Elyria Using First String Men

Featuring open team work and spectacular playing and running by Munger, Hearn, Gorr and L. Neumeister enabled Amherst high to smother the Elyria high seconds in the second game of the double header at Riverview Park Saturday afternoon by a score of 47 to 0.

Amherst's left end lay on the sidelines and received a forward pass on the first play of the game for a touchdown. This disheartened the Elyrians and the local play ed a defensive game throughout and at no stage of the game threatened to score.

Shortly after the start of the game Amherst protested on the use of Elyria high's first string men in the Second's line-up. The main protest was made against the playing of Forbes who started in both games. With the refusal to allow first string men to perform and owing to the large number of players necessarily used against Wellington, the Seconds were badly crippled for the game and played against hopeless odd.

OBERLIN LOSES CHANCE AT TITLE

Crimson and Gold Eleven Defeated at Wooster Saturday by 10 to 0 Score

OBERLIN, Oct. 25.—The sun of Oberlin's hopes for another Ohio Conference championship set Saturday afternoon, when her Varsity invaded Wooster, along with several hundred rooters and came away losers by a 19 to 0 score. No alibis are being offered. The Crimson and Gold combination lacked its usual punch but the team was outplayed in most departments of the game.

Conspicuous features were Oberlin's failure to make successful use of its overhead attack, the failure of the McPhee-Parkhill-Taylor back field combination to get started, and the phenomenal defensive work of Walker, Wooster left tackle. As an Oberlin official expressed it "the team just seemed it didn't have any pep." It showed a reversal of form such as it has not shown for two years.

One of Wooster's touchdowns came when Parkhill on the 40 yard line, trying for a drop kick booted the ball high to one side where Wooster recovered and scored after three consecutive first downs.

When the first half ended 6 to 0, it still appeared anybody's game but after McPhee was thrown on receiving the kickoff on Oberlin's 20 yards, and Taylor was nailed for a loss on a fake kick formation he had to punt from Oberlin's goal line.

The punt was blocked and downed by Wooster. Back of the line Wooster made four fumbles, but recovered each one for a gain.

This game probably also kills Wheeler's chances for nomination in the all-Ohio eleven.

Moreover, unless Akron wallops Wooster next Saturday, the Black and Gold appear to be the highest bidders for Ohio championship honors.

LORAIN SOCCOR TEAM LOSES GAME AT AKRON

Goodrich defeated Lorain 2 to 1 in a soccor football game at Akron, Sunday. Goodrich started off strong, scoring one goal in fifteen minutes and another just before the half ended.

Lorain excelled in the last half. It scored once but failed to count from a penalty kick, Clark putting the ball over the bar.

Oberlin Cross Country Team Loses to Wooster

OBERLIN, Oct. 25.—Oberlin's cross-country team was taken over by Wooster's distance runners Saturday, 17 to 20. M. Deitrick, who finished second, was Oberlins highest man.

The course run was four miles and a half, while the local lads have been practicing a four mile run only, a fact which proved disconcerting, especially to H. Deitrick who will show up much better on the local course.

Featuring biggest in the defeat were the up and down hill stretches over which the Wooster course lies. The flat country around Oberlin affords little training for these grinds.

The team has full confidence that when the Black and Gold men come here Nov. 13, the day of the Case football game, the story will be entirely different.

for Highest Possible Quality at Lowest Possible Price

What is the big idea?

MEN have all kinds of reasons for liking Spur Cigarettes. Some like them because they're mighty classy-looking—that brown-and-silver package is an eye-winner. Some like them because the paper is crimped—no paste to taste. Some like them because they're a full-packed cigarette—nothing "skinny" about them. Some like Spurs because they're twenty for twenty cents—the rock bottom price for the highest possible quality.

But what they all shout about and pass along is that they have found at last a cigarette with that good old tobacco taste that lingers in the memory.

Yes, sir, you can sure taste the good Oriental and home grown tobaccos—and that's the big idea back of Spur Cigarettes.

Now, folks, just don't wait, but try a package of Spur Cigarettes today. It's not as though you were buying a limousine. And if you do find in Spur the cigarette you have been wanting—something that just strikes the spot—it will be the best buy you've made since Hector was a pup.

Wellington Hi Is Outclassed Here Saturday 24 to 6

Cheese City Eleven Meets First Defeat in Five Games During Which Time Team Had Not Been Scored Upon---Visitors Defense and Aggressiveness Worried Victors

Whatever chance Wellington may have had for copping the Lorain County Championship, went glimmering Saturday afternoon when Wellington met her first decisive defeat by the Elyria High School football team by the score of 24-6.

From the start Wellington never had a chance to win. The local boys tore through the Wellington team and scored two touchdowns in the first 9 minutes of play. Elyria scored again in the last quarter and threatened on two other occasions The Wellington defense was too much for the Elyria eleven and held them safe on their one yard line.

Played Good Game

The Wellington team played a splendid game Their record has been one that would strike fear into the stoutest hearts Until Saturday only ten points had been scored against them When the fact is taken into consideration that among these opponents were Lorain Ashland New London and Amherst, the Elyria fans realized that Wellington must have a stone wall defense Saturday however the Wellington eleven did not show the dash and charge that is necessary to win championships The Wellington team showed flashes of real power but at no time did the team show the consistent smashing attack necessary to win

Elyria's first touchdown was the result of a forward pass to Forbes which put the ball on Wellington's 20-yard line Line plunges by Penfound and Forbes gave Guthman his opportunity to register a touchdown Krugman kicked goal Guthman then kicked off to Wellington Exchanges of line plunges and Umpire Horns penalties for roughness by Elyria's coach Wellington worked the ball back to her 40 yard line In an attempted forward pass Forbes intercepted and Elyria had the ball on Wellington's 40 yard line Wellington held the local eleven for downs and took possession of the ball On the second play Be Vier fumbled and Penfound picked up the ball run ran 40 yards for a touchdown In the last quarter Krugman and Tulk worked a pretty place kick from a different angle on Wellington's 20 yard line A few minutes later Hauserman who had replaced Dick at left end got a pretty forward pass from Penfound and ran 15 yards for a touchdown Krugman kicked goal giving Elyria a total of 24 points

Visitors Fight Stubbornly

Wellington's touchdown was the result of Elyria's loafing after two touchdowns had been made At the opening of the second quarter Wellington came back strong, and the local boys seemed to be resting up Wellington by clever forward passing and end runs carried the ball to Elyria's 25 yard line Line plunges by Be Vier and Mortimer gave Smith the opportunity to score Wellington's only points

On two other occasions Wellington nearly slipped over some extra points on the local eleven At the end of the first quarter Smith dropped back to Elyria's 30 yard line and tried a drop kick which failed by inches In the second quarter Elyria's line did its work when Wellington had the ball on Elyria's 7 yard line with four downs to make it After four attempts Wellington still had 2 yards to go and Penfound punted out of danger

Locals Played Good Game

The entire Elyria team played well There were no individual stars Every player did his duty Several good runs were made but these came as the result of good interference by the team The local boys seem to be learning the lesson of working together and every player doing his utmost to help the runner advance the ball It is this team spirit which is bound to cause the teams of the N O A L which are played in the next four games to look with apprehension upon their game with the local eleven

The results follow

Property Owners Please Notice!

It is with extreme regret that we are compelled to announce that we cannot accept any new applications for power and lighting service until after March 15, 1921, at least.

We will, however, continue to accept applications from customers who have already wired their homes for service as we do not wish to leave anyone with an investment from which no benefit can be derived

Our transmission line from Lorain is carrying an overload every day and our two sub-stations are loaded to the danger point Our lighting load, with the shortening days is commencing to overlap the factory power load and we cannot jeopardize service to our present customers by further additions to what has already been promised

Electrical equipment has a very definite load which it can carry and the safe limit of our equipment in Elyria has been reached

Extensive improvements are necessary before additions to our load can be made and we cannot now secure the means to do this work.

Chamber of Commerce Notes

By HAROLD H. PERRY, Asst. Sec.

November Monthly Meeting

The Directors of the Elyria Chamber of Commerce are pleased to announce through the courtesy of Mr. A L. Garford on the evening of November 2nd, the election returns will be received in the Chamber of Commerce Hall. A special Western Union wire will be run to the room and an operator will receive the returns. This is the first time in the history of the Chamber of Commerce that election returns will be received in this manner and in view of the fact that this is the first year the women of the country will participate in the National election, it is expected that there will be a large attendance at this meeting. A special invitation is extended to the women of the community to attend this meeting and especially to the wives of the members. A light lunch will be served throughout the evening and the returns will begin to come in at eight o'clock.

FALL PROGRAM

That part of the Fall Program which is the most interesting to the general public is perhaps the placing of street signs throughout the city Chairman Jack Warden of this committee will begin working on the signs next week and hopes to have them placed within the next thirty days. Jim Armitage, himself, has donated his services to this committee and together with the work which he will put on it—he has contributed some novel ideas which will assist greatly in this work. The character of sign which will be posted on the corners of the street intersections will be a wooden sign, black with white letters The signs will be sanded to preserve them from the weather.

CITY PLANNING COMMITTEE

The City Planning Committee of the Chamber of Commerce have presented a report to the City Council and action is expected from this body on the report tonight. It is understood that the members of the City Council are very heartily in favor of a City Planning Commission. This Commission will be composed of the mayor of the city, the City Service Director, Chairman of the Park Board, and four citizens to be appointed by the Mayor.

The matter of a hotel for Elyria is receiving a great deal of time and attention from the committee and there will be a report made on this important matter within the next six weeks. The hotel committee will visit Chicago next week to confer with interested parties in that city.

In the Retail Merchants Division, the Better Business Club has held the most successful dollar day and window trim contest in the history of the organization. On October 26th they will visit the Ridgeville Grange and from November 1st to 10th will be Pay-Up Week. There will be some special features played up during the Pay-Up Week and the directors of the Better Business Club anticipate great results during this event.

The Young Men's Business Club, which is co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in its activities has started out on its fall program with the usual spirit and enthusiasm accompanying this organization. This organization has received national publicity because of its activities and requests are coming in every day from other cities for information concerning their live organization. They will promote this year the play ground program of the city They are co-operating with the School Board and they propose to establish play grounds at the McKinley School, Hamilton School and Franklin School and also to employ a paid supervisor of these play grounds to teach the coming generation the art of sports and the value of knowing how to play.

Their social program will include three dances held in the Elks' Hall on October 29th, December 30th and May 6th Johnson's Orchestra of Cleveland will provide the music for these dances.

DARING ESCAPE OF PRISONERS STIRS SING SING OFFICIALS

A—Kay room. B—Warden's room. 1—Death house. 2—The Mortuary. 3—New York Central railroad tracks entering tunnel under grounds. 4—One of many towers in which machine guns may be placed. 5—Foundation of new classification building. 6—Warden's residence. Entrance to prison is through (B) warden's offices.

The recent daring escape from the world-famous Sing Sing prison of two prisoners and the failure of attaches and police officials of the surrounding country to capture them has stirred prison and New York state officials George Stivers, serving twenty years for murdering a policeman, and Marcus Bassett, serving two years for auto stealing, are the two escaped convicts. Bassett had but two months more of his term to serve. The pair were trustees and as such had access to the key room. When guards came to "count" the trusties at liberty the two convicts sandbagged them. They then forced their way into the warden's rooms adjoining and from that building, which is outside the prison walls, made their escape. They stole a nearby auto and when that machine gave out stole another. They obtained civilian clothes by holding up a party of autoists on the road.

As a result of their escape prison officials plan a shakeup in the force and additions to the protective measures about the prison, such as machine guns in the wall towers.

The market reacted in the second hour when United Fruit fell 5 points and Coca Cola 3 1-2, the latter losing ground on adverse dividend rumors. Irregular recoveries set in before noon, when steels developed activity, especially heavy buying being noted in United States Steel and Bethlehem An opening rate of 8 per cent for call money indicated a possible reoccurrence of last Friday's flurry

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Indications of probable quick settlement of the British coal strike tended today to strengthen the wheat market. Opening prices which varied from 3-8 off to 1c advance, with December $1.99 to $2.01 and March $1 93 to $1 94, were followed by moderate gains all around and then something of a reaction

Corn was firmer with wheat. After opening unchanged to 5-8c higher including December at 80 1-2 to 80 5-8, the market scored additional upturns and later underwent a sag.

Oats reflected the strength of other grain, starting unchanged to 3-8c higher, with December 53 5-8 to 53 3-4c and keeping close to initial figures

Weakness in the hog market had a depressing effect on provisions.

NOTORIOUS CRIMINALS CAPTURED IN BANK HOLDUP

Bandits killed and wounded. "Jiggs" Losteiner, at left; Albert Joyce, center, and Harry Stone, right. Below, picture of bank, scene of holdup. Arrows point to bullet holes in bank window and riddled windshield of bandits' car. Six bullets were fired through the windshield within a six-inch circle.

Eight bandits, at least three of whom boasted of long criminal records, attempted to "make a haul" of $50,000 at the Bedford, O., branch bank of the Cleveland Trust Company. An alarm system connecting the bank with nearby stores, warned neighboring store keepers. These men, armed heavily, met the bandits as they left the bank and in the battle that followed "Jiggs" Losteiner and Harry Stone were wounded and captured and Albert Joyce, another gunman, was killed. A fourth bandit also was captured.

THESE POLISH ORPHANS ARRIVE IN U. S. AFTER ESCAPING BOLSHEVIK MENACE

Fifty-six Polish refugee children arrived at Seattle recently on the S. S. Fushimi Maru. Practically all of them were orphans. Many of them were torn from their families in the early part of the war, at so young an age that when taken by the relief commission they could not remember name or birthplace The natural bewilderment resulting from so stormy careers seems, however, to have been replaced by a kind of stolid cheerfulness. The kiddies are being bountifully entertained in the United States.

George Hess, director of the National Botanic Garden, Washington, has named his latest rare specimen of plant life the "Mother-in-Law Cactus." This is not particularly complimentary to one's mother-in-law, for when the tongue comes in contact with the spines of this plant it swells until the victim is unable to talk. The duration of this uncomfortable and enforced silence is given as nine days. The photograph shows Mr. Hess and a specimen of his new and dangerous "Mother-in-Law Cactus."
